Vote FOR The BAWI Bond Issue

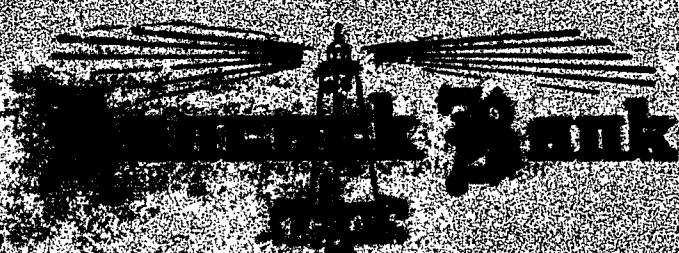

Saturday, August 12, the voters of Bay St. Louis will ballot on the proposed BAWI plant for the Porcelain Enameling Manufacturing Division of the Industrial Electric Company.

The objective of the proposal is to bring to our city a good, clean, well established industry which will, in the beginning, create a hundred new jobs and a stable, year-round payroll which will certainly strengthen the economy of our city and county.

This is our people's first opportunity to vote on a BAWI project; however, communities all over our State have had very successful experience since the law creating the BAWI program was passed and every indication points toward Mr. Brignac's operation being of tremendous benefit to our city.

The Hancock Bank feels that establishment of this plant can lead to additional industry locating here and an overwhelming vote FOR the issue will clearly demonstrate to industry that they are wanted and would be welcome in our city and thus we heartily endorse it.

Here is a project that all Bay St. Louis can conscientiously approve and we sincerely hope that each and every voter will help get and vote FOR the bond issue Saturday.

Operating Loan Funds Available in Mississippi For FHA Loans

State Director T. B. Fatherree of the Farmers Home Administration announced today that Mississippi has received an allocation of $8,300,000 for making operating loans this fiscal year. These loans are available to eligible applicants who cannot secure conventional credit and are designed to assist farmers in developing more efficient farming programs. The loans may be made to eligible farmers to buy livestock, farm machinery, home equipment, feed, seed, lime and fertilizer. Under certain conditions funds may be included in the loan to refinance debts secure by liens on livestock and farm equipment. The amount of the loan depends upon the need as determined by the farmer's farm and home plan. Loans may be made to run from one to seven years. The number of years allowed for repayment depends upon the amount of income expected each year and the purposes for which the money is advanced.

Mr. Fatherree stated that this allotment does not include money which may be advanced for emergency loans if the need arises from poor crop in 1961.

Farmers who wish to make application for operating loans should contact the local office of Max H. Stone, County Supervisor of the Farmer Home Administration in the Agricultural Center Building on Necaise Ave. in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak are the stars in "Come September," the rollicking romantic comedy which has just been set to open Friday on the screen of the Legion Theatre.

Filmed in Technicolor and Panavision, the 7 Pictures Corp.-Raoul Wtlsh Enterprises production was written by Stanley Shapiro and Maurice Richlin, the team responsible for Universal's two record-breaking laugh hits, "Operation Petticoat" and "Pillow Talk." "Come September" was photographed in Rome and on the Italian Riviera with interiors shot at the famous Cinecittà Studios, a place called home by four of the film's stars long before the production moved to the Eternal City.

Western Mississippi Industrial Advances

Industrial development in Western Mississippi for the first six months progressed. PRJC TO OFFER NEW MACHINE SHOP COURSE

POPLARVILLE, Miss. — Pearl River Junior College will offer a new two-year vocational course in Machine Shop beginning in September with the starting of the fall semester.

The course is designed to give the young high school or non-high school man the basic knowledge and skills required to obtain a job in industry upon finishing the course.

Today, craftsmen need greater skills than ever before because the machines and structures they build and use are more complex. The demand for the unskilled and untrained laborer has decreased. The greatest number of unemployed men was found to be those between the ages of 18 to 25 and mainly because they did not have some form of vocational or semi-skilled training.

One of the most effective methods for developing skills and knowledge of a craft is through vocational training. When the student finishes this balanced program of related classroom instruction and practical shop experience, he is qualified as a skilled workman in a vital occupation which is recognized throughout industry. You as a machinist will shape metal machinery and equipment parts from metal stock, performing all tasks involved such as laying out stock, shaping parts on various machine tools and fitting and assembling machined parts with hand tools.

Students in Machine Shop will receive four semesters of training in shop work and related subjects. The majority of this training will be in well equipped shops and laboratories using modern equipment, similar to that used in industry.

The courses of study at Pearl River Junior College in Machine Shop are: Shop Mathematics, Mechanical Drawing, Machine Shop Practice and Methods, which actually consists of learning to operate various machines such as the metal shaper, drill press, milling machine and the metal lathe, plus a number of other machines and hand tools. Physical Education is also required as part of the requirements for the course.

Plan now to enroll this September. Students are not required to have graduated from High School to enroll. Semester starts September 4, and those interested may contact Dean R. L. Johnson or Marvin White, registrar.

HEAT AND TIE FOR GOLDWATER — Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.), receives a centennial hat and tie from Chris Tully, vice-president of the Winona Chamber of Commerce, although the famous senator regrettably declined an invitation to attend the 100th birthday of the "Crossroads of North Mississippi." An invitation, extended to him in preference to President Kennedy, asked him to speak on "American Heritage Day" program in the five-day celebration, August 19-25.

In brief, here are a few of the reasons why we are asking you to get out and

Vote For The Bond Issue

1. Passage of this bond issue will DEFINITELY NOT increase your taxes.
2. Construction of the plant itself will mean money spread throughout the community.
3. Payrolls of between $6,000 and $7,000 weekly from the plant itself will mean increased commercial activity for our business people.
4. One indirect benefit will be the hiring of additional people — an estimated 174 — by the other business houses in our community.
5. Additional jobs in a community means that indirectly the churches will gain, schools will benefit from taxes derived from additional home construction, cultural activities will be increased.
6. Passage of this bond issue has been endorsed by all of the leading civic, fraternal, and veterans organizations in the community.

Mississippi Pulpwood Production in 1960
Part Of All Time High

ATLANTA, Ga. — The value of the pulpwood harvest in Mississippi totaled $39,472,000 during 1960, it was reported by H. J. Malsberger of Atlanta, general manager of the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association.

Mississippi's share in the production of raw material for the pulp and paper industry, Mr. Malsberger explained, was part of an all-time high, pulpwood harvest for the South as a whole. The 12-state total for 1960 was $417,028,990, a gain of $4 per cent over the $400,000,000 reported for 1959.

Among the 30 counties in Mississippi where pulpwood is produced, leaders were Clarke, Jackson and Jasper counties with pulpwood crop valued at $1,780,530, $1,362,640 and $1,357,200, respectively.

These figures were based upon the results of a southwide pulpwood production survey made by the U. S. Forest Service Experiment Station in Asheville, N. C., and New Orleans, La., in cooperation with SPCA.

The South's pulpwood harvest last year, Mr. Malsberger stressed, was not only 57 per cent of the nation's total but was also greater than that of any other area of comparable size in the world.

He emphasized, too, that figures from government surveys show a continuing favorable ratio of forest growth over all removal, including gains over tree harvested for man's use and those as a result of fire, insects and disease.

"With the ever-growing market for wood products," he added, "forest owners have a continuing strong incentive to manage their woodland properly in order to produce more and better trees."

FARM SAFETY

Tractors and other farm machinery make your farm jobs easier and faster. But at the same time, they make the same jobs many times more dangerous.

Always leave safety shields in place. Used the farm machinery only for the purpose for which it was intended to be used.

CHANGES IN FARMING
You hear a lot about loss in numbers of farms and farmers. But this does not give a true picture of the situation.

It is true that we have fewer farms and farmers, but here the decline stops. Farms are larger. They are more productive. More farmers own their farms. There Generally, fishing has been good, both fresh and salt water fish have been caught the past two weeks. Good catches of specks were caught at Half Moon and Grassy Isle. Green trout and perch have been striking well at Bayou Boland and in the bayous in Louisiana west of Pearl River.

Alden Mauffray and Sylvan Ladner made a good catch of trout and perch Wednesday.

August Rauxet and yours truly with Perre Quintini caught some two days this week.

Sorry to hear of the illness of Bob Mitchell out in California. Get well soon, Bob.

Bobby Fayard and Jack Garriga had an unusual experience while fishing one day this week. A 4 1/2 foot gar hit by the motor landed in the boat in Bobby's lap, fell on the bottom of the boat.

are fewer tenants. Farm expenditures have increased tremendously, but so has farm income.

Here are some examples. The average size of Mississippi farms has increased from 82 acres in 1949 to 135 in 1959; value of the farms increased from $4,400 in 1949 to $13,000 in 1959.

Percentage of farms operated by tenants decreased from 52 percent in 1949 to 32 percent in 1959. Farms providing incomes of less than $2,500 decreased from 85 percent in 1949 to $748 million in 1959.

Farming in Mississippi is big business. The entire economy of the state is geared to agriculture. By following recommendations of the Agricultural Extension Service, based on experiment station research results, you can do much toward improving the economic situation in the state.

PASTURE JOBS

Clip all pastures that have not been clipped. Do not clip them close, but raise the clipper blade so as to take out only weeds and not good grass.

Start immediately following land for early September planting of oats. Make sure you plant only treated oat seed. Don't take a chance on losing your early oat grazing due to leaf blight.

Manage your Sudan or millet so that not over two hours grazing is done on an area in any one day. If you think you will need additional grazing in September or October, you can plant millet, Sudan or grain sorghum.

If your pasture has not been limed within the past five years, put lime on it at the rate of one ton per acre.

Alternate grazing on all permanent pastures. If possible, graze no area longer than a week without giving it a rest.

Harvest all hay crops when the first blooms show up. If one is available, run the hay through a hay conditioner.

GARDENING

Now (August 1-15) is the last call for planting tomato plants or suckers for fall tomatoes.

Irish potato planting time is now (August 1-15). Recommended dates are north Mississippi August 1-10; central Mississippi August 10-20; and south Mississippi August 20-30.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Many more farmers are now eligible for social security benefits. You can now apply for benefits checks when you reach 62 years of age. You will receive a check each year for a benefit based on your earnings record.

The amount of the monthly benefit depends on your earnings record. If you wish to know more about social security, contact the Social Security Administration at the Hancock County Extension Office.

EXCEPTIONS:

These cars could deliver top performance with only 8 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients. But they'll soon need the ninth. Do you know why?

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd get along fine without Shell's TCP additive. But harmful deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut power and mileage. TCP works to keep that from happening. Here's how.

THE ENGINE OF EVERY CAR ON THE road has combustion chamber deposits. Nothing can stop them from forming. They're the inevitable result of combustion.

If your car has only a couple of thousand miles on it you probably won't know the deposits are there. But once they've built up, they can be rough on performance. Fortunately, something can be done about that. Shell's TCP additive does it.

How deposits cause trouble
Here's what can happen inside your engine. When certain types of deposits get hot enough, they can heat spark plugs to the point and ignite the fuel themselves.

These premature explosions are forms of pre-ignition. They give your pistons a terrific hammering. Your power falls off. And so does your mileage.

Instead of purring smoothly, your engine falters—and costs you money.

How TCP prevents trouble
New, improved TCP in today's Super Shell gasoline literally alters these combustion chamber deposits. It "fireproofs" them so they no longer glow red-hot.

Result: top performance. And as a little extra, new improved TCP can help spark plugs last up to twice as long.

NOTE: TCP can improve the performance of many older cars. Tests have shown that it helps resist power loss to harmful combustion deposits—and can add up to 17 miles per tankful.

9-ingredient formula

TCP is just one of Super Shell's nine ingredients. To get an idea of how all nine contribute to top performance, run your eye over the list at the right.

And try a couple of tankfuls yourself. If you do it soon, you'll get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend.

It's specially formulated to give your car top performance in summer. And that's a reassuring thing to know when you're out driving on a sizzling day.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

- #1 is TCP—for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
- #2 is Pentane mix—for fast warm-ups.
- #3 is anti-knock mix—for knock resistance.
- #4 is All-plate in control "high-speed knock".
- #5 is Butane—for quick starts.
- #6 is "cracked" gasoline—for power.
- #7 is an "antiforce." Added when cold weather sets in.
- #8 is gum preventive—for clean carburetors.
- #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.

FOREST FIRE
DAMAGE COSTLY

The cost for protecting the forests cost many dollars. Private individuals, including forest industries, spend many dollars of their money, some in cooperation with the government, and some in their own independent protection operations. Mississippi has a good program effective at both county and statewide levels, making headway in reducing fire losses, but continuing efforts must be made to achieve maximum results through public and private co-operation.

Research Lead To Advice, Caution On Bottom Defoliation

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — Advice and precaution on bottom defoliation of cotton in the Mississippi Delta have come out of research at Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville.

Drs. C. D. Hanney and R. C. Thomas, USDA pathologist and physiologist respectively, have issued a progress report on their work on bottom defoliation which is intended to reduce boll rot, hasten boll opening, and permit an earlier first picking.

Present information indicates that bottom defoliation should be considered only if there is a moderate to heavy crop of bottom bolls and plants are tall with fairly dense foliage. If a grower decides to use bottom defoliation, the following cautions are suggested:

Avoid spraying too high on the plants. Bolls in the treated zone should be mature. Application should be made in fair weather. Low rates of defoliants should be applied: 1 to 1½ gallon of most liquid chlorate formulations, or 1 to 1½ pints of Polox or Def, with enough water to make 10 to 15 gallons total spray per acre as indicated by calibration of the spray equipment.

To get full benefit from defoliation, it should be followed by bottom harvesting within 12 to 20 days or as soon as bolls in the treated zone have opened. The bottom crop can be harvested by removing the upper 10 to 12 series of spindles from the heads of high drum pickers. This permits picking the lower bolls while the upper foliage and green bolls pass through undamaged. Corks are used to replace the spindles that have been removed.

The complete progress report is published in the August issue of Mississippi Farm Research available on request from the Experiment Station.

Water Sports' Popularity Makes Safety More Imperative

Mississippi's swimming and boating season now at its peak affords a timely reminder that enjoyable water pastimes could turn to tragedy unless proper caution is observed at all times. It is particularly important for water devotees to know how to give artificial respiration to a swimmer or boater who sinks. Knowing what to do in an emergency can prevent tragedies.

SCHOOL ADDITION NEARS COMPLETION

Shown above to the right in architect L. F. Wagner's sketch, the second wing of Christ Episcopal Day School's modern brick structure is nearing completion. Built at a cost of approximately $58,000, the new wing will add four large classrooms, a library, an office, and a teachers' lounge to the present facilities. This Bay St. Louis private school, one of the few schools in Mississippi to have a double-A scholastic rating, accepts students of all faiths from kindergarten through eighth grade and provides daily bus service from Clermont Harbor to Mississippi City. Started in 1950, its current enrollment is approximately 180 children. Through the number of students per class is limited, registrations are still being accepted in some grades for the 1961-62 session.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF INDUSTRIAL ELECTRIC, INC.

On June 10, 1929, Industrial Electric, Inc. opened its doors for business on Carondelet and St. Joseph Streets as an electric motor repair company.

Several years later, Industrial branched into the Neon sign business, and since, has expanded into one of the largest electric sign manufacturers in the country.

For a number of years Industrial was one of the major electrical contractors in this area. Among projects that were completed by the electrical construction department were the wiring of the Huey P. Long Bridge across the Mississippi River; rewiring the Hibernia Bank building, and many other projects including naval bases, power line installations in the Carolinas and other distant states.

In 1938 Industrial established its affiliated company, Industrial Outdoor Displays for the erection and leasing of poster boards and painted spectacular displays. This company operates approximately 500 poster units and 400 painted units. In the painted units a novel system of rotary units is employed whereby customers' advertising copy is rotated to any of 36 various locations about the city, either monthly or bi-monthly. All major national and local accounts are serviced by this company.

In 1946, Industrial created the Enameling Division. This division manufactures porcelain enameled signs and architectural porcelain enameled panels used in commercial buildings, multi-storied buildings, etc. With a dealer organization representing this division, an area of 20 states is serviced.

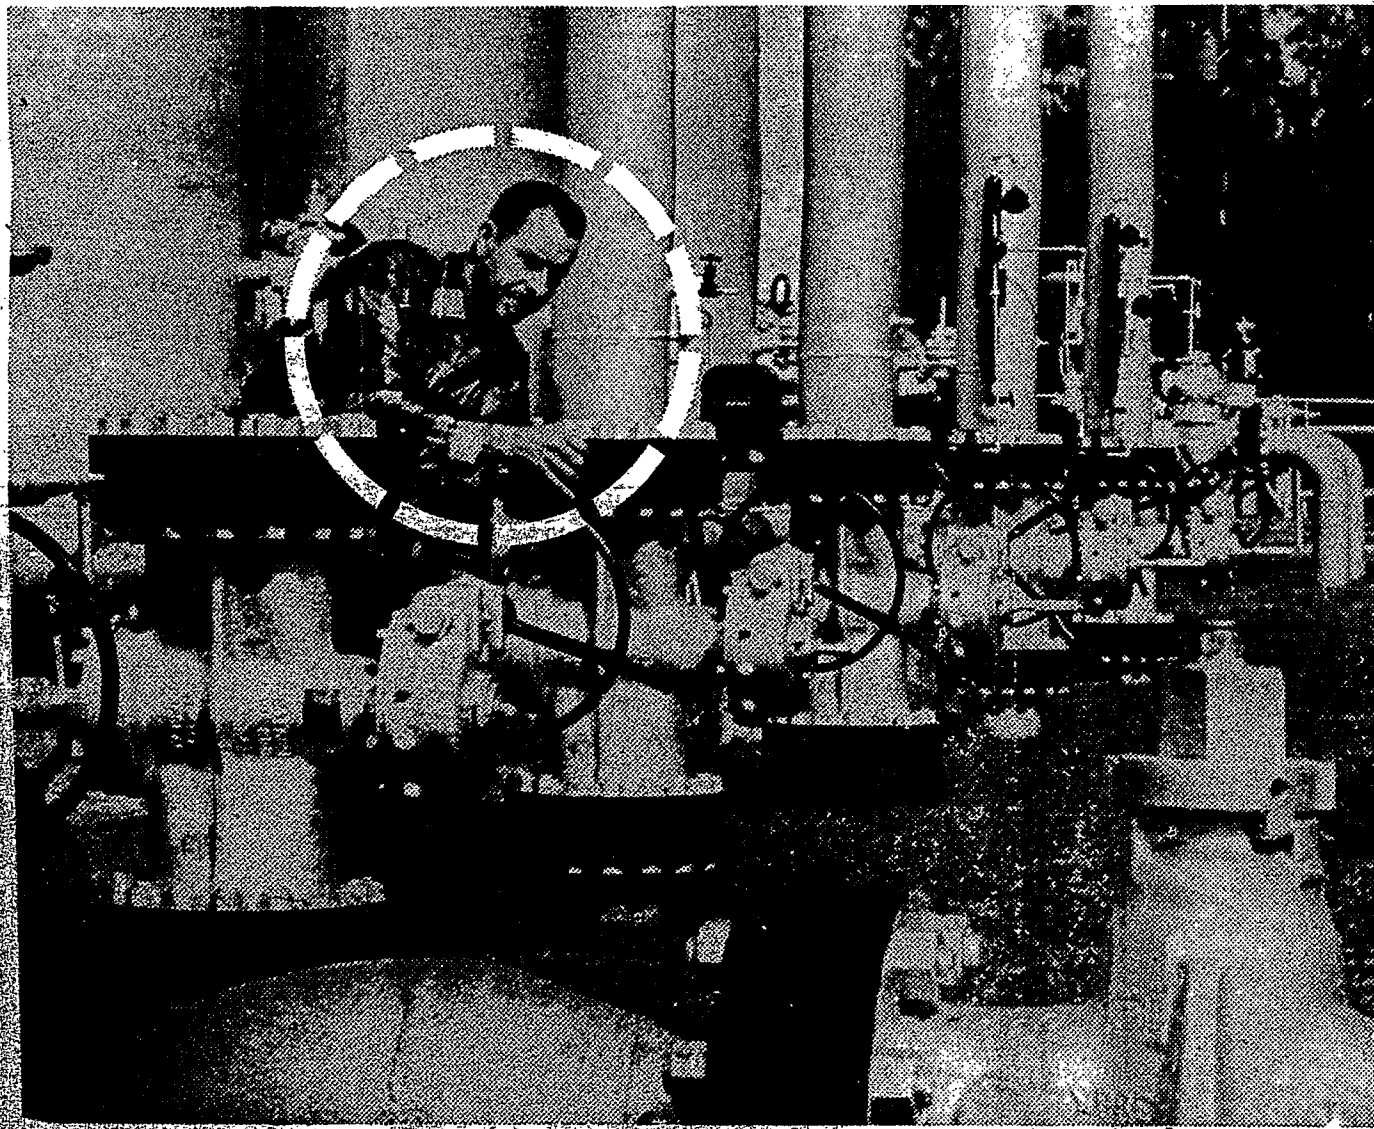

In 1951, Industrial saw the need for a Plastic Sign Division. This division has grown with the overall company and has become a major component in the sign manufacturing phases of the business. This division has the facilities to fabricate and/or press form letters, shapes and characters, of almost any description.

Again in 1958, as a natural complement to the overall manufacturing facilities, Industrial established its Panel Board Division. This newest division has the facilities for assembling Panel Board cabinets, switch boards and electrical control centers as used in major commercial and industrial buildings.

New And Expanding Industry Benefits Everyone

Yes, new and expanding industries do benefit everyone — by creating more jobs, by increasing the demand for Mississippi's products, by bringing more business to local stores.

More and more industries are looking to Southeast Mississippi as a land of opportunity. New plants are springing up every year — adding strength to the economy of this area and the state. One of this area's best recommendations for NEW industry is the success of EXISTING industry.

Through the years it has been a pleasure for the Mississippi Power Company to co-ordinate its effort with state agencies, Chambers of Commerce, and other business concerns, whose objective is the greater industrial development of our state.

Amendment To Restore
Retirement Coverage

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Some 700 civilian technicians employed by the Mississippi National Guard were assured of payment of the employer's part of their retirement fund contributions as a result of an amendment sponsored by Senator John Stennis in a Senate committee.

Stennis said the Defense Appropriations Committee, of which he is a member, adopted an amendment to restore coverage to the technicians after the provision had been knocked out of the bill in the House of Representatives. The bill will now go back to a Senate-House Conference for final action. Under a recent law adopted by the Mississippi Legislature, civilian technicians employed by the National Guard were brought under the state retirement program, provided the Federal Government would pay the employer's share of the retirement costs.

Normally, the state pays the employer's share for state employees, but civilian technicians of the National Guard, paid with federal funds, fall in a different category for retirement purposes.

Stennis said the appropriations would provide the necessary amount to cover the 700 civilians now employed by the National Guard in Mississippi.

Lott-Semple Wedding In Lake Charles, La.

Miss Mary Noelle Semple and Andrew Jackson Lott, IV, were married on Saturday, August 5, at 9 a.m. in the Immaculate Conception church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Semple of Lake Charles and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott of Kiln, Mississippi.

The Rev. Charles Mallett officiated at the ceremony. Jerry Crews, organist, provided the musical music.

The church decorations included matching vases of white gladioli and mums on the altar, accented on each side of the communion rail with white floor baskets of white gladioli. A white aisle runner extended to the altar and family pews were marked with white satin bows. Mr. Semple gave his daughter-in-law a pearl necklace.

A deep v-neck effect in imported tulle extended to just below the bustline. The deep V neckline was outlined with scalloped lace and embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The long fitted lace sleeves came to metal points over the back of her hands. The skirt joined the empire waist and fell into a controlled chapel train in back. A peau-de-soie bustle bow in back and tiny peau de soie buttons of the silk and lace extending down the back bodice accented the back of the gown.

Her veil of illusion was held by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley with natural foliage surrounding a white orchid.

groomsmen were Dr. H. Charles Semple, brother of the bride, and Robert E. Barras and the ushers were Jack Norton, Isaac Comeaux of Sulphur, uncle of the bride, Wilson D. Morris, Jr., nephew of the groom, and Robert J. Boudreau, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Semple chose for her daughter's wedding, a turquoise silk chiffon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of lilies of the valley and stephanotis. Mrs. Lott, mother of the groom, wore a pink linen dress with pink accessories and a corsage of lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Pioneer club. Included in the house party were Mrs. Isaac Comeaux, Sr., grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Wilma Boudreau, great aunt of the bride, Mrs. Russell E. Staub of Harahan, Louisiana, aunt of the groom, Mrs. W. F. Wilson, Jr., sister of the groom, Mrs. R. L. Gates, Sr., of Alexandria, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Frank Ellis, sister of the groom, Mrs. R. L. Semple, Sr., and Mrs. I. Comeaux, Jr.

Miss Andre Comeaux, cousin of the bride, and Miss Patricia Ann Morris, niece of the groom, registered the guests. The rice girls were Miss Alison Comeaux, cousin of the bride and Miss Nancy Gates, Jr., daughter of the bride.

The bride's table held an arrangement of Fujii mums in a silver epergne flanked on either side by silver candelabra with white tapers.

For a wedding trip along the Gulf Coast the bride wore a three piece Thomas Cotton boxy suit in magenta with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.
